Juvenile incarceration rates across the nation have continued to decrease over the last decade, including at the Northern Virginia Juvenile Detention Center (NVJDC).

This series of community meetings is part of a comprehensive analysis and study of potential operational and cost efficiencies of the NVJDC, including the possibility of closing the center due to underutilization and detaining youth in another center in Northern Virginia. The meetings will include a study overview and opportunity for engagement and feedback.

If you are unable to attend the meeting, you may also share your thoughts through an online survey on the website below.
